

A Hymn on Christian Baptism – (to the tune ‘Ombersley’)

When, to the healing rivers led, when, by the living waters fed, when, in the sacred current laid, then we will rise in Christ, re-made.

When, as the holy dove descends, when alongside us Christ befriends, when breathing in the Spirit’s breath, then there is life where once was death.

Now into that same life we grow now with the love of God we go, now in the thirsty world we share, rivers of mercy flowing there.
