

Light of Our Moments – (to the tune ‘Slane’)

Light of our moments, and light of our years, light of our laughter, and light of our tears, light which illumines when darkness is strong, light which inspires in our dance and our song.

Light which empowered creation to be,
light which is freedom from captivity, light of our longing, and light of our joy, light of our strength which no power can destroy.

Light of the nations, the new world to share, light which brings hope out of endless despair, light which is comfort, compassion, and grace, light never fading through time and through space.

Christ is the light of the world set ablaze, light of our living, God’s glory displays, light ever burning to show us the way, burn in our hearts now and always, we pray.
